

Big Mountain Data and Dev Conference 2022 Sponsor Information

About Big Mountain Dev and Data Conference

Big Mountain Data and Dev Conference is the premier technical agnostic conference in the state. All sessions will be held in person at the SLCC Miller Campus. This will be a 1 day event and have sessions through the whole day. The event is free and open to all.

Big Mountain Dev and Data Conference is presented by Utah Geek Events, an all-volunteer non-profit corporation established to provide no cost and low cost events to the Utah tech community. Because our events are primarily free, your sponsorship helps us put on high-quality events that rival larger conferences.

This year, Big Mountain Dev and Data Conference will be held Thursday November 10th. We are expecting 300+ attendees. Sponsors use Big Mountain Dev and Data Conference to recruit talent, promote their company, or promote a particular product. Your sponsorship will connect you with Utah's brightest and leading developers.

Why Utah?

It's simple, Utah is one of the nation's premier tech and business locations.

- ❖ In January, 2013, Forbes named Salt Lake City as the number seven tech hotspot in the country. <http://www.forbes.com/pictures/edgl45eldd/no-7-salt-lake-city-ut/>
- ❖ In 2012, Payscale.com ranked Utah at the number four hotspot in the nation for startup IT jobs. <http://www.payscale.com/it-jobs>
- ❖ CNBC ranked Utah as the second best state for doing business in their 2012 survey. <http://www.cnbc.com/id/46413845/>
- ❖ In 2011, Utah generated more jobs than any other state, except North Dakota. Computer system jobs shot up nearly 12%. <http://www.npr.org/2012/03/12/148252561/on-utahs-silicon-slopes-tech-jobs-get-a-lift>
- ❖ According to Forbes, Utah ranks fifth in the country for tech jobs. <http://www.forbes.com/sites/joelkotkin/2011/11/18/the-best-cities-for-technology-jobs/>
- ❖ Forbes also ranked Utah as the best state for business, three years in a row. <http://www.forbes.com/best-states-for-business/>
- ❖ In 2008, Utah had more Inc. 500 business per capita than any other state. <http://www.inc.com/magazine/20080901/inc-500.html>

Utah is home to some of the hottest tech in the nation and includes companies such as Ancestry.com, Domo Technologies, Overstock.com, 1800Contacts, Pluralsight, Fushion-io, MaritzCX, Novell, Intermountain Health Care, and more. It also hosts development offices for Adobe, Microsoft, 3M, Symantec, Goldman Sachs, United Health Care, LANDesk, ADP, Logitech, Allegiance, eBay, and others.

But it doesn't stop there. Technology education in the state is also highly-ranked. The Computer Science program at the University of Utah is considered one of the top in the nation. Utah State University is a world-renowned leader for aerospace research, having sent more experiments into space than any other university.
