About SQL Saturday SLC 2024 Conference

We have an all day Saturday event April 5th 2024 that is in-person only. We will have 4 tracks of great technical sessions. It will be held at the Gail Miller SLCC Campus in Sandy, UT.

Why Utah?

It's simple, Utah is one of the nation's premier tech and business locations.

- ❖ In January, 2013, Forbes named Salt Lake City as the number seven tech hotspot in the country. <http://www.forbes.com/pictures/edq145eldd/no-7-salt-lake-city-ut/>
- ❖ In 2012, Payscale.com ranked Utah at the number four hotspot in the nation for startup IT jobs. <http://www.payscale.com/it-jobs>
- ❖ CNBC ranked Utah as the second best state for doing business in their 2012 survey. <http://www.cnbc.com/id/46413845/>
- ❖ In 2011, Utah generated more jobs than any other state, except North Dakota. Computer system jobs shot up nearly 12%. <http://www.npr.org/2012/03/12/148252561/on-utahs-silicon-slopes-tech-jobs-get-a-lift>
- ❖ According to Forbes, Utah ranks fifth in the country for tech jobs. <http://www.forbes.com/sites/joelkotkin/2011/11/18/the-best-cities-for-technology-jobs/>
- ❖ Forbes also ranked Utah as the best state for business, three years in a row. <http://www.forbes.com/best-states-for-business/>
- ❖ In 2008, Utah had more Inc. 500 business per capita than any other state. <http://www.inc.com/magazine/20080901/inc-500.html>

Utah is home to some of the hottest tech in the nation and includes companies such as Ancestry.com, Domo Technologies, Overstock.com, 1800Contacts, Pluralsight, Fushion-io, Podium, Novell, Intermountain Health Care, and more. It also hosts development offices for Adobe, Microsoft, 3M, Symantec, Goldman Sachs, United Health Care, LANDesk, ADP, Logitech, eBay, and others.

But it doesn't stop there. Technology education in the state is also highly-ranked. The Computer Science program at the University of Utah is considered one of the top in the nation. Utah State University is a world-renowned leader for aerospace research, having sent more experiments into space than any other university.
